

The best fashion influencers to follow for sartorial inspiration

We've done all the hard searching for you to bring you a definitive guide to the best-ever fashion blogs...!!!

Fashion has now changed its definition, it is not limited to clothing and wearing style but it has forwarded two steps ahead in people's life. Everything you do in your routine life is now influenced and modified according to fashion:

- Firstly the place (home) where you live, are now designed according to the new trend of fashion with all the luxurious things inside.
- Going to the Gym for fitness is now also the mark and need for fashion.
- Things you like to do in your vacant time is also depends on fashion. Playing outdoor sports like polo is the mark of the fashion of rich people.
- Kids are also influenced and fond of new coming fashion trends. Their toys, books, dresses, activities are now completely changed according to fashion.

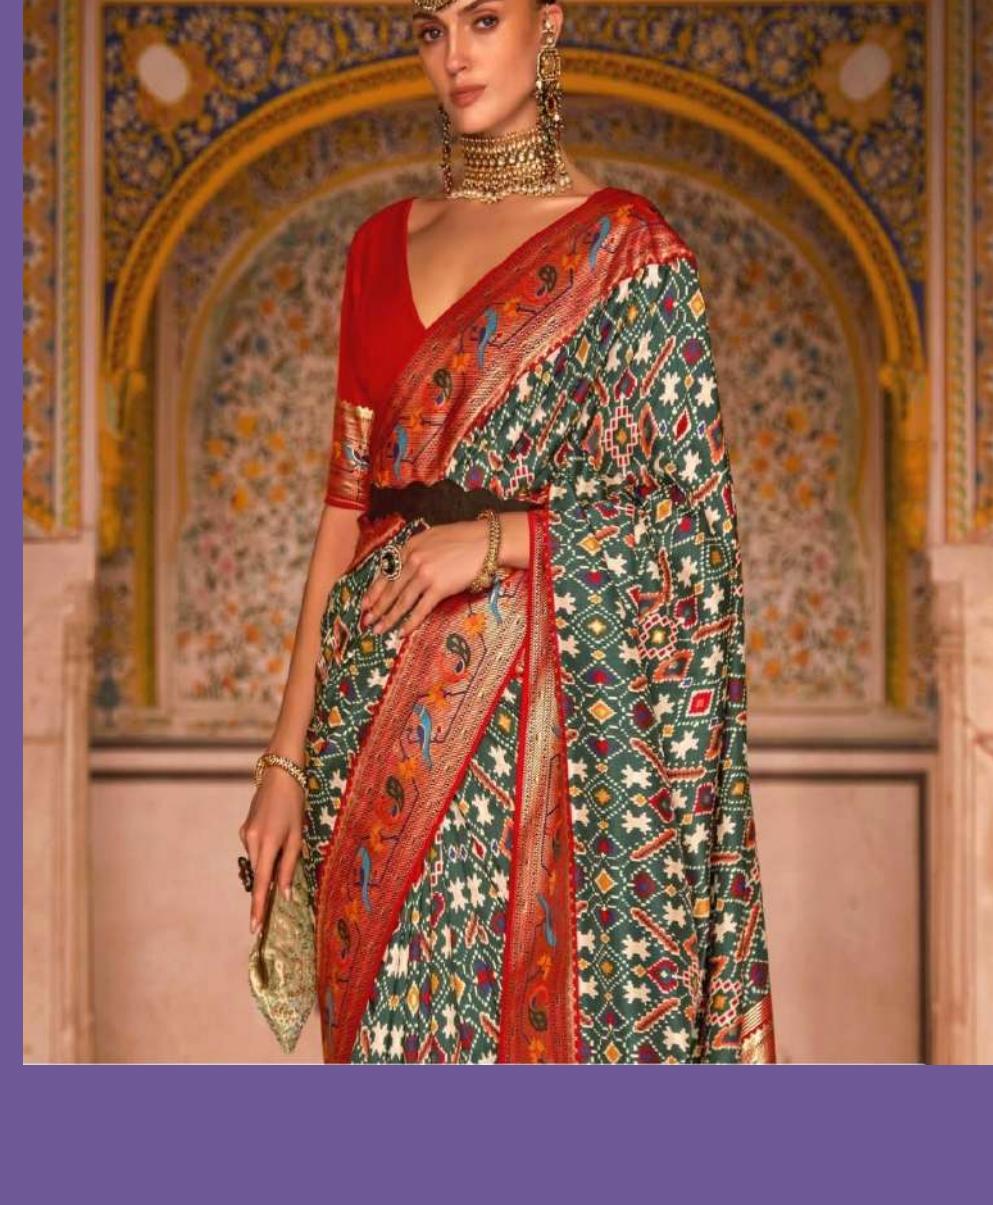

FASHION

Women throughout India wear traditional saris made of cotton, silk or factory blends and the 5 to 7 yards (4.57 to 6.4 meters) of fabric that make up a sari are wrapped on the body in countless ways depending on where the wearer lives. Hindu women wear short tops and slips or petticoat-type garments underneath and tuck the ends of fabric into waistbands. Other forms of wrapping leave cloth falling loosely over shoulders or covering the head.

Salwar kameez, a pant and long-tailed or to-the-knees shirt outfit made of lightweight fabrics is most common for women in more urban areas. Western clothing continues to increase in popularity in city centers, though the traditional bold colors and embroidery of classic Indian attire influence newer designs.

A dress (also known as a frock or a gown) is a garment traditionally worn by women or girls consisting of a skirt with an attached bodice (or a matching bodice giving the effect of a one-piece garment).^[1] It consists of a top piece that covers the torso and hangs down over the legs. A dress can be any one-piece garment containing a skirt of any length, and can be formal or casual. A dress can have sleeves, straps, or be held up with elastic around the chest, leaving the shoulders bare.

Dresses also vary in color.

FAMILY

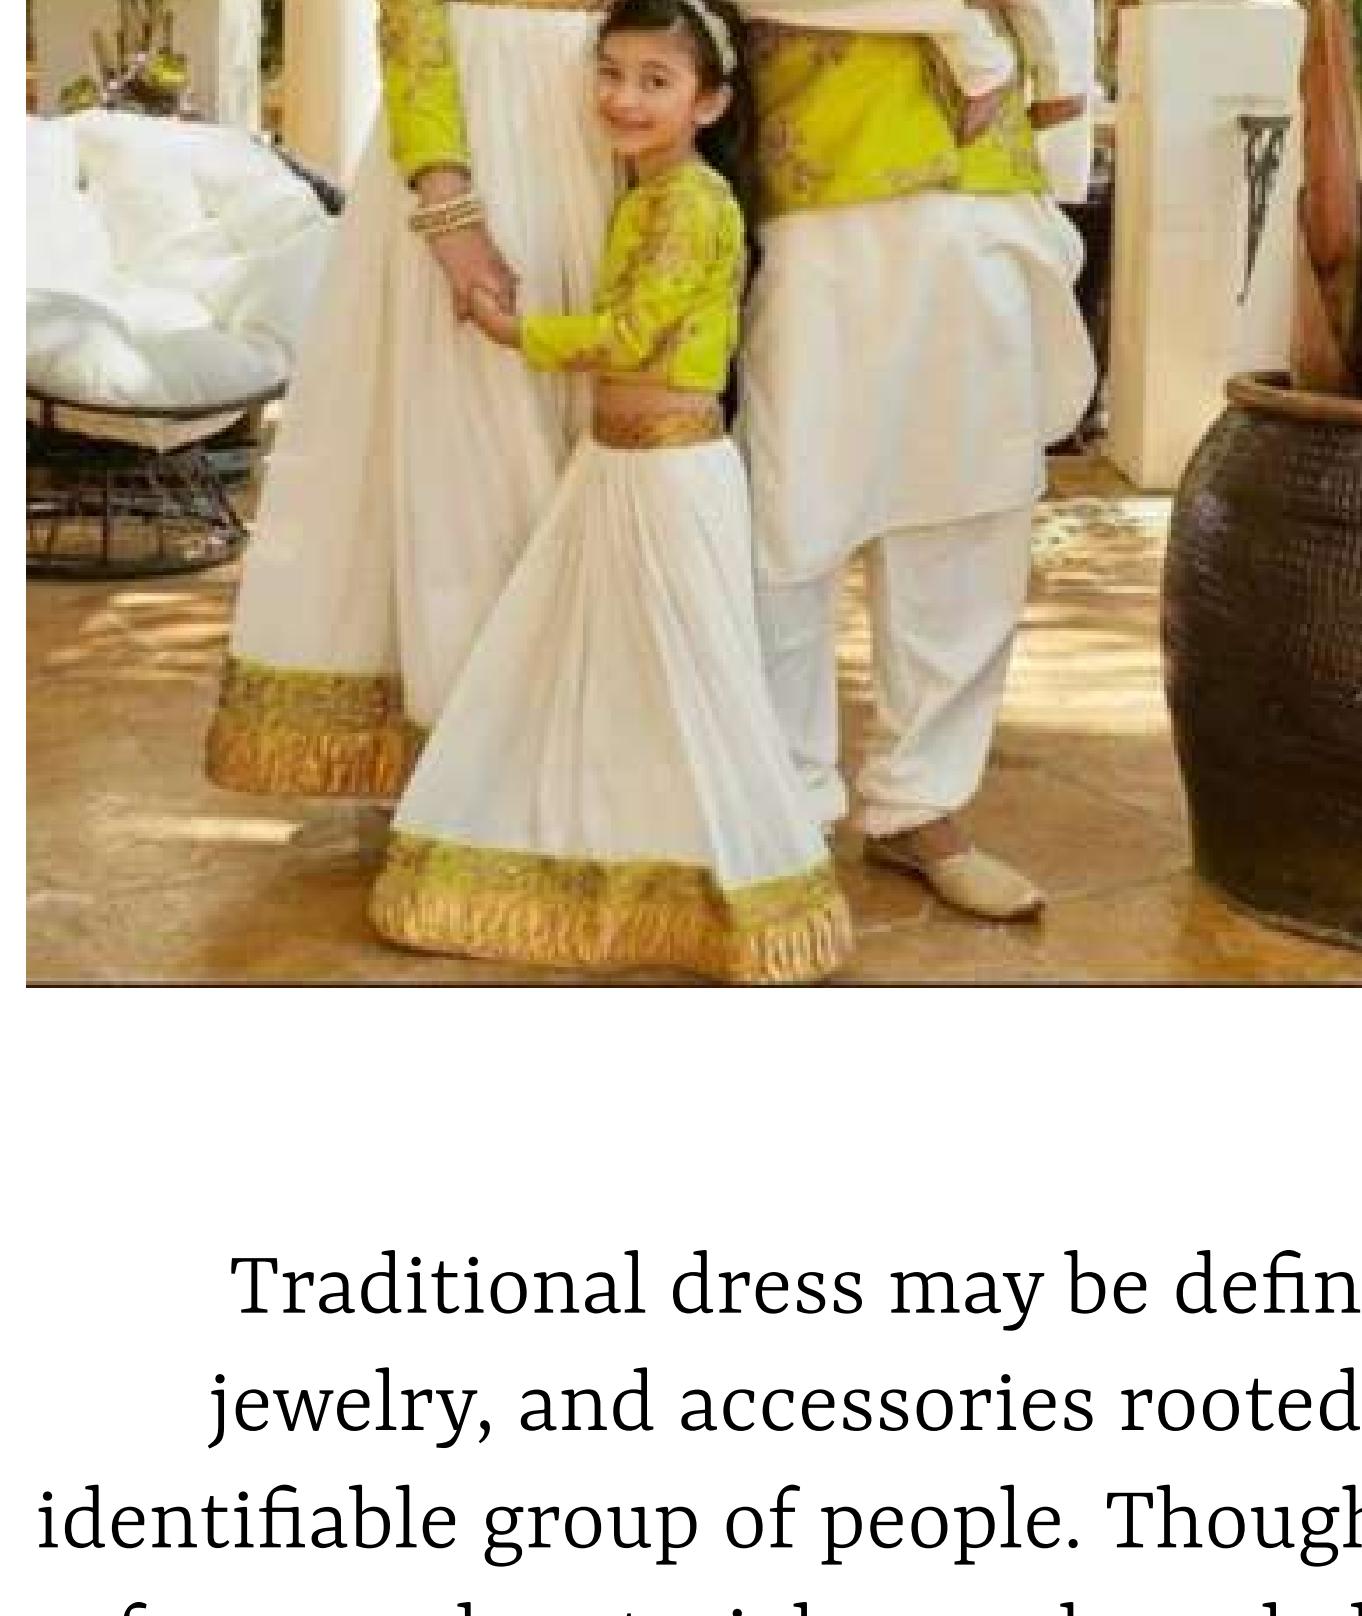

Family comes First

A reunion is the perfect excuse to break out that fit-and-flare dress you've been saving for a special occasion. These silhouettes are inherently a little dressier than other styles — and they also look great with everything from strappy metallic sandals to heels to wedge booties.

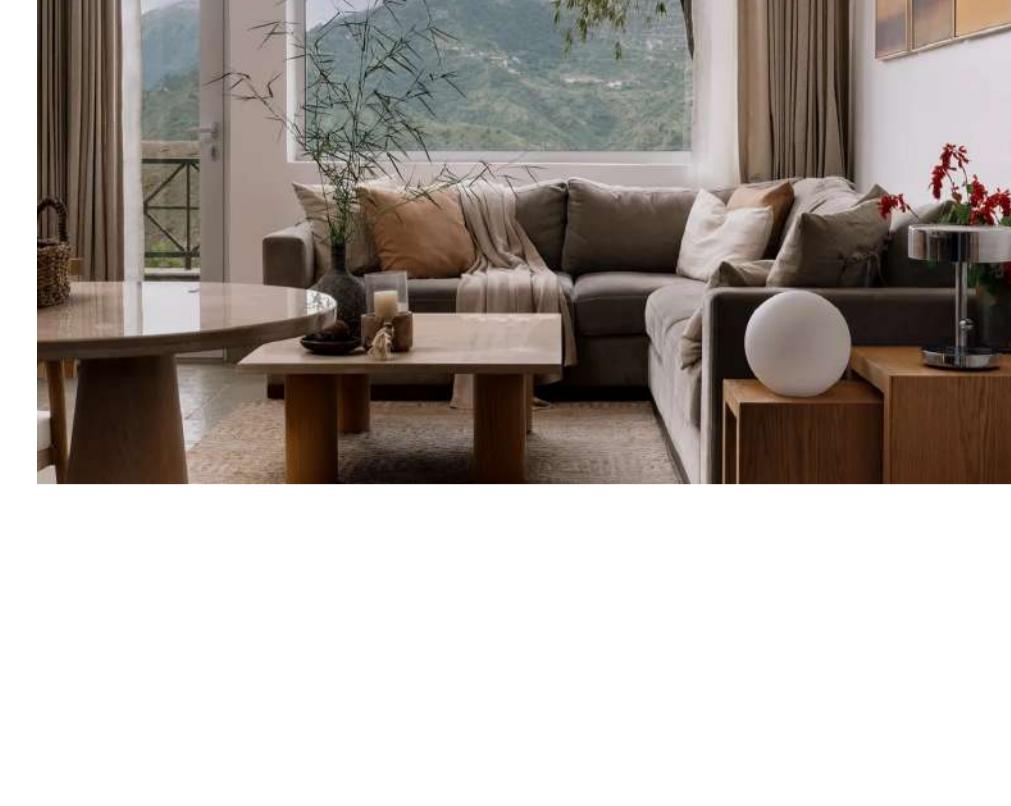

You can soften the look a little by throwing a cropped denim jacket on top to add a little bit of balance. Another option is a shirt dress, which is perfect if you're going straight from the office to the reunion. Dress it up with a pair of statement earrings and a glamorous clutch to transform your ensemble to a party-worthy look. Even a maxi dress can be a practical choice for a spring or summer reunion. The right accessories make all the difference to your look. Add a bold necklace and slip on some metallic sandals to bring it all together perfectly.

Culture

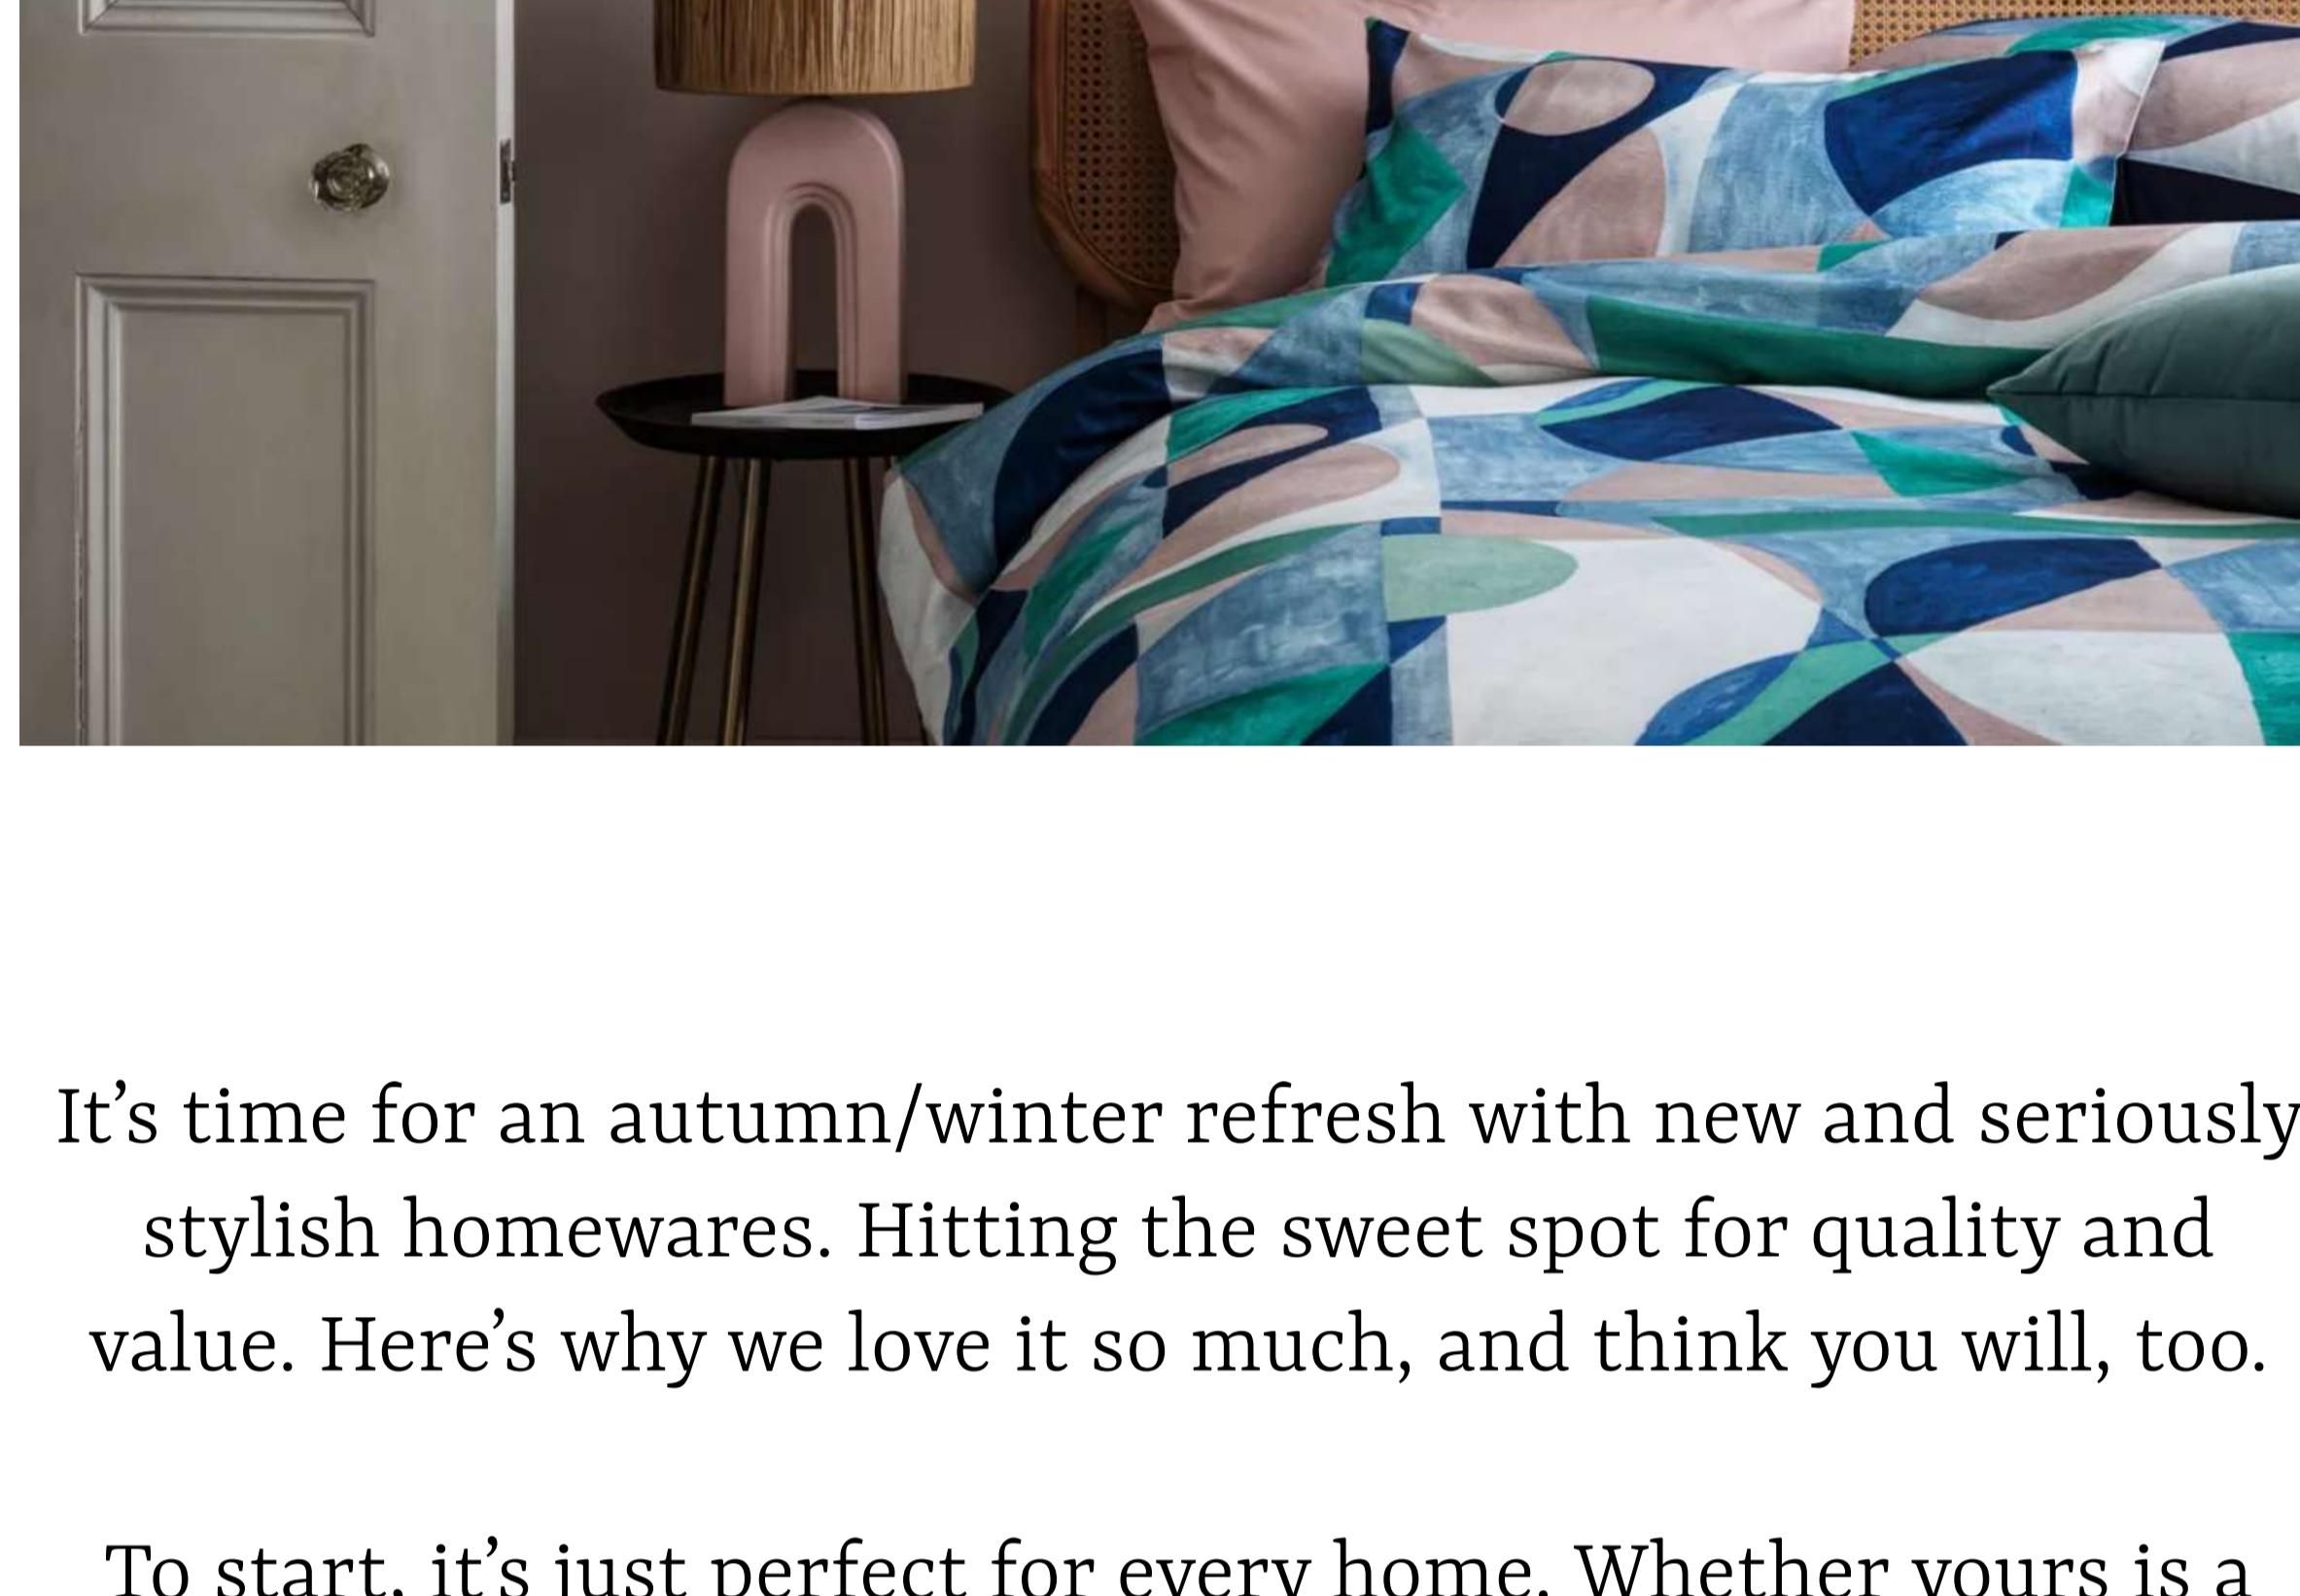

Traditional dress may be defined as the ensemble of garments, jewelry, and accessories rooted in the past that is worn by an identifiable group of people. Though slight changes over time in color, form, and material are acknowledged, the assemblage seems to be handed down unchanged from the past. Traditional dress or costume is a phrase used widely both by the general public and writers on dress. It conjures up images of rural people dressed in colorful, layered, exotic clothing from an idealized past in some faraway place.

LIFESTYLE

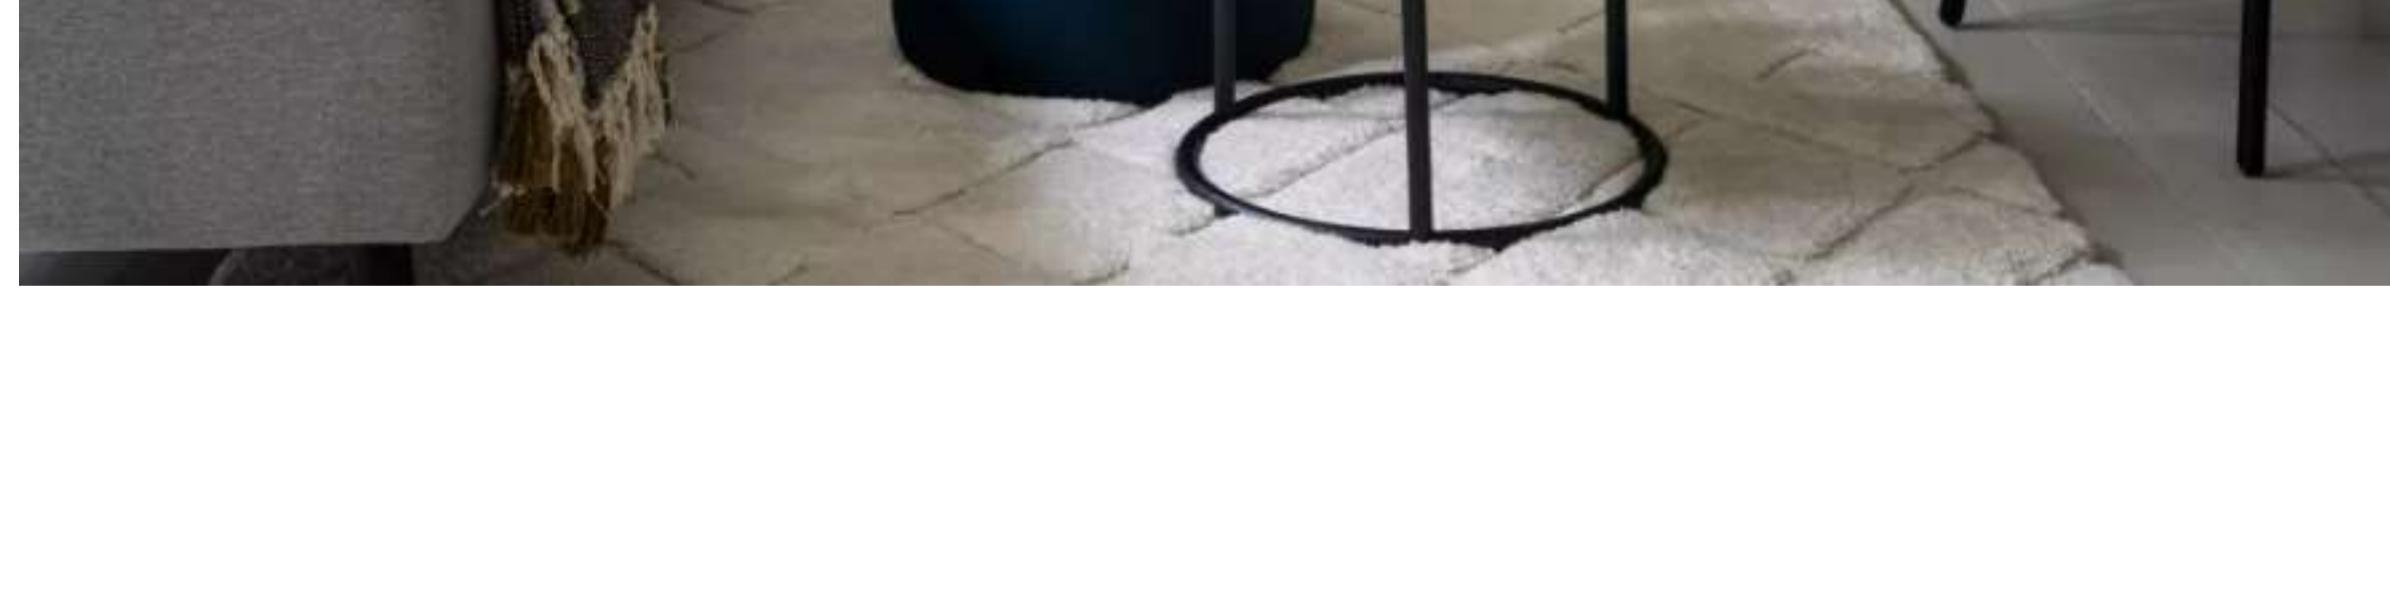

Winter Collection

It's time for an autumn/winter refresh with new and seriously stylish homewares. Hitting the sweet spot for quality and value. Here's why we love it so much, and think you will, too.

To start, it's just perfect for every home. Whether yours is a traditional terrace or a modern new-build, there is something to suit every room in every home, whilst also reflecting your own personal style. Designed especially for the autumn-winter season, but versatile enough to extend well beyond the colder months and into spring and summer, it's just the thing for rethinking your home right now.

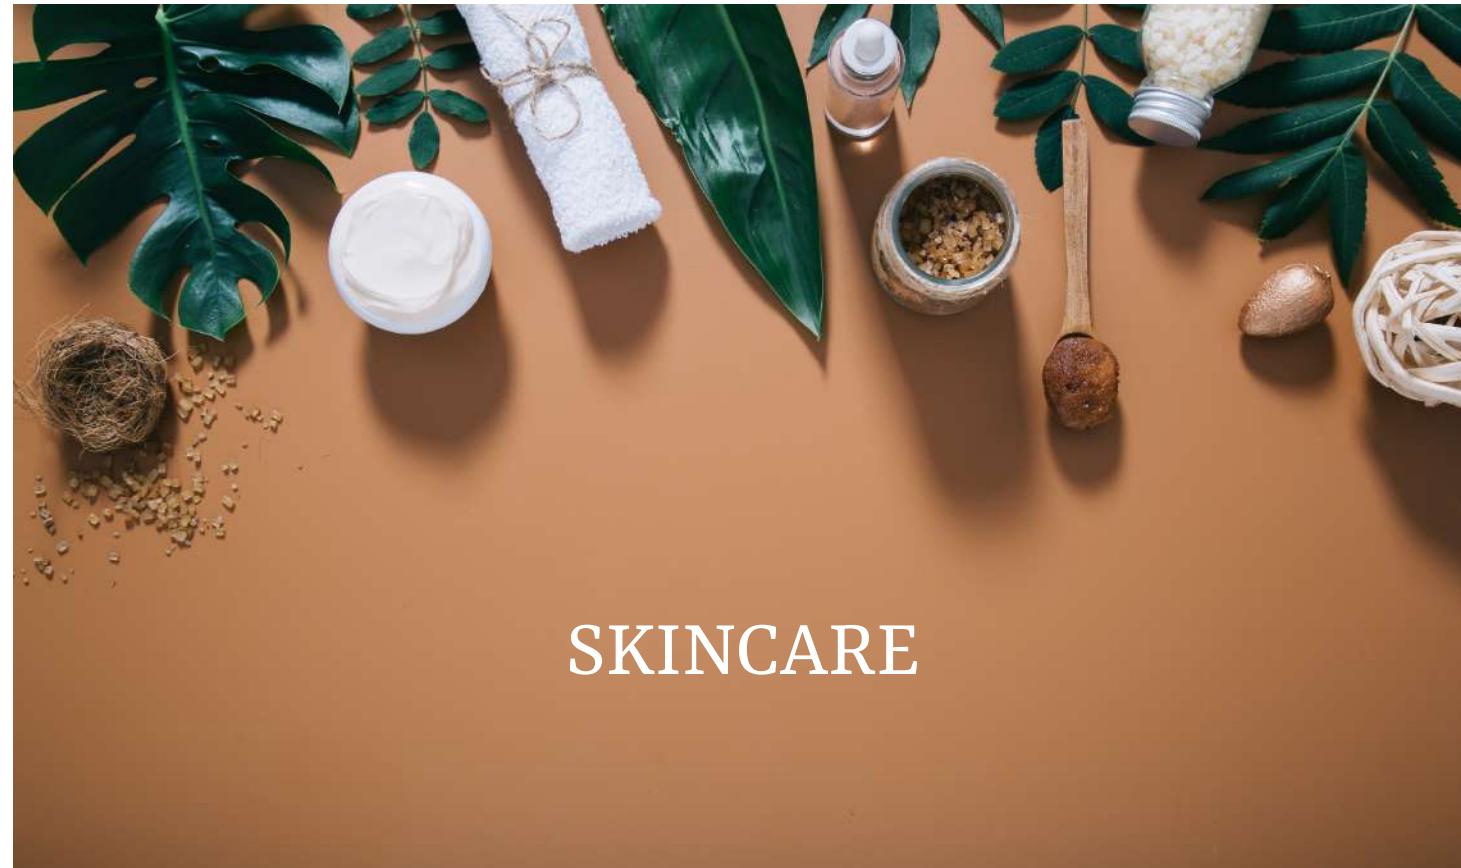

Latest Autumn

Just one item can enhance the whole space; a new piece of furniture that changes the dynamic, a stunning table lamp that elevates the whole space or even new cushions in a sassy colour mix. It's affordable, too, so whatever your vibe, you'll find pieces to switch up your style without getting overly spendy.

The collection boasts a mix of colours including rich autumnal shades, opulent jewel-like hues and calming neutrals, creating a palette for everyone; a scheme to reflect your unique personality. And what makes the designs so beautiful is how they balance timeless style that lasts, with trend-led, of-the-moment features.

Zap Your Pimples into Oblivion

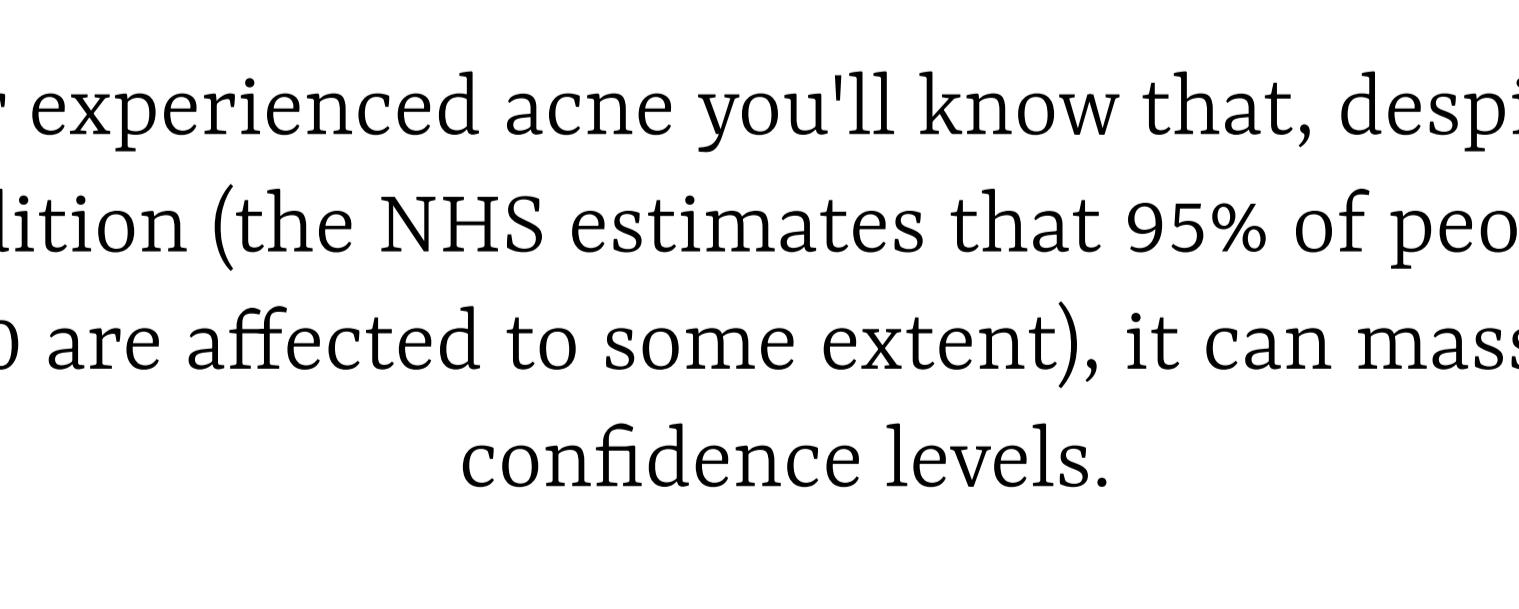

Why is it that a giant, painful spot always appears just before a really important event? This unfortunate turn of fate is exactly why you need the best spot treatments to hand: to get rid of 'em. And quickly.

The best spot gels usually contain a concoction of anti-inflammatory and bacteria-reducing ingredients, like salicylic acid(opens in new tab) and niacinamide, to help reduce the painful swelling and spot-causing substances. Salicylic acid in particular can get deep into your pores to help decongest them, speeding up the spot shrinking process.

We should stress the below are specifically designed to be applied only to the odd angry pimple rather than as an all-over treatment for acne flare-ups. If the latter applies to you, whether you're suffering from teenage acne or adult acne, we feel your pain, but you're better checking out

Acne & these are the Skincare Ingredients that Helped

If you've ever experienced acne you'll know that, despite being a very common condition (the NHS estimates that 95% of people between the ages of 11 and 30 are affected to some extent), it can massively impact your confidence levels.

Everybody's skin responds differently, but the best acne treatments(opens in new tab) are an important factor in managing this condition long-term – as is building a strong skincare routine for acne(opens in new tab).

To that end, beauty journalist Lamya Tilmatine has shared her journey from a heavily blemished 27-year-old to a fresh-faced, acne-free woman who no longer feels the need to wear even the very best foundation(opens in new tab). Although every acne journey is unique, and you should always consult your doctor or dermatologist for personalised advice, her firsthand experience of the condition may prove helpful to those with similar struggles. Below she tells us about her acne journey, from trialling the best spot treatments(opens in new tab) to making changes to her lifestyle.

Best Foundation for Combination Skin to Balance Oily & Dry Types

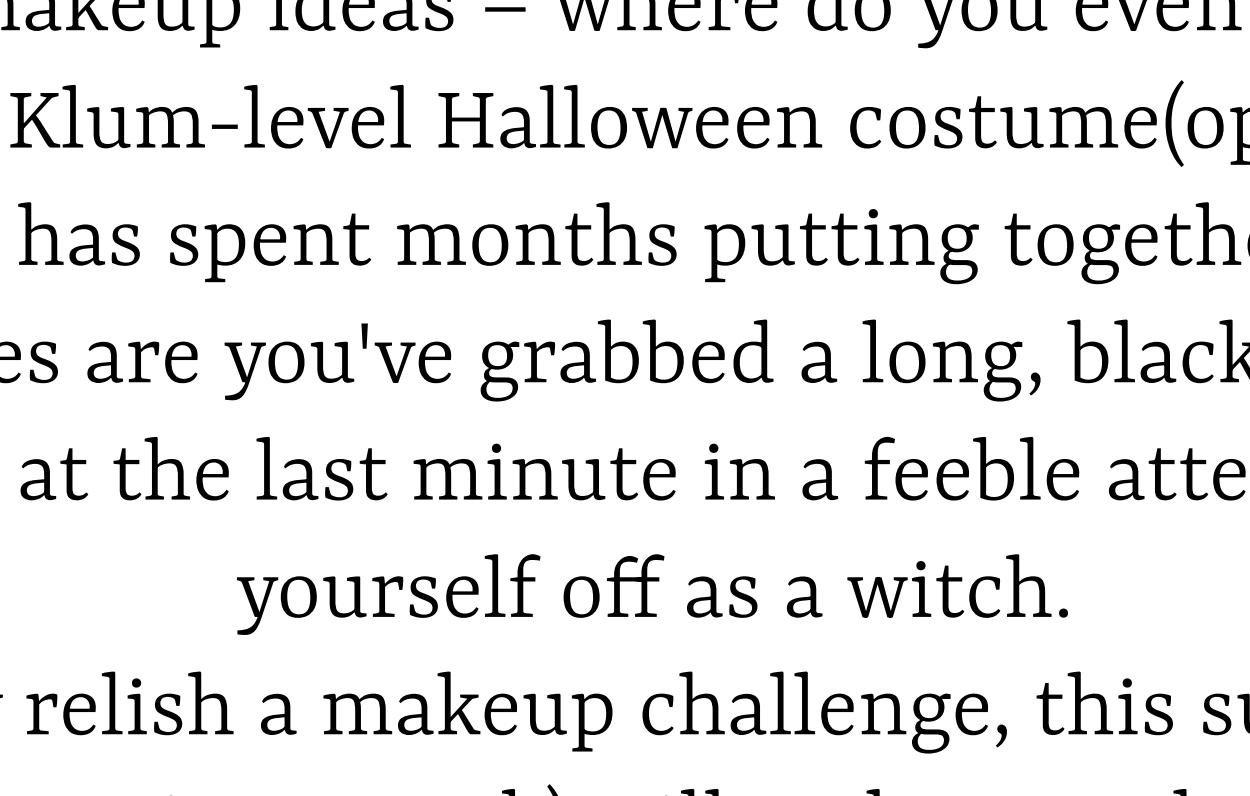

Finding the best foundation for combination skin is no easy business. When it comes to picking a base, you need something that won't exacerbate oil levels to the point of greasiness, but also won't make dry patches even worse – all while leaving you with a flawless finish, of course. Doesn't sound like that much to ask, does it? Surely finding the best foundation can't be that tricky?

It's important that before applying your base, that you prep the skin with the relevant skincare. Pair the best serum with the best moisturiser for combination skin to create the best canvas on which to apply your foundation. Remember, it all starts with the skin.

The best primer is another great way to prep your skin. Not only will it create a smooth base to apply your foundation, but these handy products will help to keep your makeup in place all day long.

Halloween Makeup

Halloween makeup ideas – where do you even begin? Unless you're a Heidi Klum-level Halloween costume(opens in new tab) fanatic who has spent months putting together the perfect outfit, chances are you've grabbed a long, black wig and some face paint at the last minute in a feeble attempt to pass yourself off as a witch.

If you really relish a makeup challenge, this surreal look by Claire Dim(opens in new tab) will make everybody at the party do a double-take. While it might take a little while to get it perfect, it's a really unique look that we doubt many will be sporting. If anything, it gives that person you've been fluttering (multiple) eyelashes at a reason to gaze deeply in your eyes - even if they're just trying to figure out where your real pair are.
